The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.

The exemptions this year had to be factored down to 95% due to our certified ratio. In order to certify our ratio at 100%, tax assessments would have to have gone up. It would have been a net wash, so the board elected to just certify at 95% for this year to save on the work it takes to make those adjustments.
